CLAIM REJECTIONS UNDER 35 USC 102(b)

Claims 13, 17 and 18 stand rejected under 35 USC 102(b), for lack of novelty over U.S. Patent 5,117,780 (henceforth "Wooten"). Wooten, however, does not show the animal waste being watered and stirred, in a container in which the animal waste remains, as recited in amended claim 13. Rather the waste is washed away through an opening, into a toilet. There is no suggestion in Wooten of treating the animal waste, as recited in the preamble and the last paragraph of amended claim 13. Claims 17 and 18 are patentably distinct from Wooten at least for the reason that claim 13, on which they depend, is patentably distinct from Wooten.

USC 102(b), for lack of novelty over U.S. Patent 4,957,131 (henceforth "Robinson"). Robinson, however does not disclose solid waste being placed into a container, but rather an enclosure 22 being placed about solid waste. This is a significant difference, as it would be quite a chore to lug the apparatus of Robinson about a dog park, as opposed to simply using a scoop to pick up the various pieces to dump into the container of claim 13. Moreover, amended claim 13 states that the waste remains in the container during the operation, whereas Robinson shows the waste being washed away by the operation. Claims 14, 18 and 19 are patentably distinct from Robinson at least for the reason that claim 13, on which they depend, is patentably distinct.
